Andi focuses her practice on commercial real estate and development matters. Before joining the firm in 2015, she worked in the Wilmington, NC office of Williams Mullen as a commercial litigation associate. In that role, she advised and represented corporate clients with a wide range of legal needs, including real estate, land use and construction matters, contract disputes, municipal liability issues and general commercial litigation. Andi also has experience with domestic law matters, including the equitable distribution of property and premarital and separation agreements, which she gained while working with the law firm of Marshall & Taylor in Raleigh, NC, both during and immediately after law school.

Andi earned her juris doctor from the Norman Adrian Wiggins School of Law at Campbell University, where she participated in the Richard A. Lord Intramural Moot Court Competition, was a member of the Phi Alpha Delta law fraternity and served as the Vice President of the Women in Law student association. While in law school, Andi also completed internships in the office of the Honorable W. Allen Cobb, Jr., Chief Resident Superior Court Judge in New Hanover County, in the District Attorney's Office in New Hanover County, and with Marshall & Taylor, PLLC, in Raleigh. She completed her undergraduate education at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, where she earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Journalism and Mass Communication, completed an internship at the Women's Center through the APPLES Service-Learning Program and participated in a number of organizations, including the Epsilon Beta Chapter of Chi Omega and the National Society of Collegiate Scholars. Andi also became a licensed North Carolina Real Estate Broker in the summer of 2007.
